Welcome Back!

Wow! This has been a great week! Thank you to everyone who made it so exciting and welcoming!

This week has been full of getting to know each other, learning rules and procedures, and getting organized for the school year.

We have already learned to use our planners to record homework, tests and important dates. We have learned how to keep our materials organized. Students have even learned how to earn tickets!!! If you haven't already heard, ask your child about those!

In religion, we have started doing a devotion each morning, and learning about creation and the beginning days of man. Next week, we will start our memory work.

In Language Arts we are getting organized and learning certain procedures, so that we can be more productive during learning time. We are also going to be testing the next couple of weeks in reading, so make sure you're rested and ready for school! Spelling is underway with homework and a test each Friday. I will send home this week's test next week.

In math, we have experimented with our new calculators, learned how to use our math reference books, and started our geometry unit.

In science, we explored our new books and made some hypotheses about the year.

We were able to peruse our first issue of Scholastic News magazine! It had fun articles and facts for us to learn about in our world.

Our specials schedule:

M- Library

T- P.E.

W- Music

Th- Lab

F- P.E.

(Don't forget to wear appropriate shoes for P.E. days!)

Thank you to everyone for a great start to 4th grade!

Homework Information:

Reading logs are due every Monday. (Next week we will check them on Tuesday.)

Spelling points are due every Friday. The goal is 100 points =100 % A+!

Spelling Pretests are given each Thursday. Final tests are given each Friday. Remember, if you get 100% on the pretest, you do not have to take the final test!

Memory quizzes are given each Friday. (We will start next week.)

Don't forget to sign planners each weekend. These are checked and filled in with new homework each Monday.

I will also be sending homework packets starting next week with graded work. These will be for you to look through, sign & return.

EXPECT

the best from your child at home, at school, and at play, while also extending grace for human frailty.

"For we know in part and prophesy in part, but when perfection comes, the imperfect disappears."

-1 Corinthians 13:9-10

Our 25-Book Goal!

This year we have set a goal for our class! We are each going to read 25 books over the school year. These need to be around their reading level, so we are using 100 pages as a benchmark to measure one book read. That means if you read two books at about 50 pages each, together they make one book. Or, if you read a book that is 200 pages, it can count as two books.

This is something that includes books read at school, at home, at a friend's house, on the roof and over the moon. We just want to READ!

You might see a paper with four boxes on it that says "Aim High, 25-Books-A-Year Goal." This is what we will use to summarize each book and keep track of how many books we have read.

It will be a lot of fun to reach and possibly even exceed our goal! So, get ready, get set, READ!
