Learning Highlights from this Week

Dear Parents,

Our class welcomed a new student this week, Kaeley Creasman. Kaeley is one of Meg Dutro's soccer team mates. The students have been very excited to have her join us and have been helping her get adjusted so she feels at home. I'm very proud of them all.

In Christ, Mrs. Rickman

Christian Studies: We are concluding our studies from the Old Testament about Moses and the Exodus.

Math: We were wrapping up our unit today learning about integers, order of operations, and different notations.

Reading: Each of the children have chosen a Biography to read. The students have also been reading The Lion, Witch and the Wardrobe as an oral reading, choosing different parts each day. We'll be viewing the movie next week.

Writing: Students biography notes were due today. They will be writing a rough draft of their speech for Wed.

Social Studies: We continue learning about the Revolutionary War Era.

Christian Music: We listened to the several newer artists.

There are different kinds of service but the same Lord.

Service Project

As part of our National Lutheran Schools Celebration, we will be doing some service around our campus. We plan to do some yard work, planting, and cleaning Friday afternoon. I could use a couple of parent helpers to guide a small group. Let me know if you can.

Permission Slip

Please read, sign and return the permission slip for our concert field trip.
